

Assessment of Value Professional Statements of Opinion

Do you want to quantify and validate the value of your business and business processes in the marketplace (i.e., ROI analysis)? Do you have a new or emerging product or medical technology that has implications for broader use in healthcare?

Assessment of Value, as applied by AHP's consultants is an extension of traditional cost/benefit analysis utilizing both clinical and actuarial expertise. We look at the value from multiple perspectives to provide a thorough, comprehensive value assessment analysis. We address both obvious and not so obvious measures of value from the perspective of all parties to the services being rendered. We provide a unique approach resulting in an analysis that goes well beyond traditional examinations. This service can provide ROI calculations for medical management procedures. It can also help you validate the worth of a new product you are introducing.

How can AHP help?

- We begin by compiling a complete understanding of the product or service being assessed and it's role in the healthcare industry.
- We build a value model based on cost savings and clinical improvements
- We develop a projected ROI and projected clinical improvement model using historical data
- We build alternate models to contrast this service or product to competitors and compare financial and other outcomes
- We develop a value matrix summarizing specific measures utilized in concrete terms
- We compare to leading industry practices to validate findings

Why Axene Health Partners?

Assessment of Value Professional Statements of Opinion require broad industry knowledge and multi-disciplinary expertise. Axene Health Partners, LLC management developed the concept of integrating actuarial science with the practice of medicine. Our firm is built on the integrated discipline approach. Our consultants include actuaries, clinicians, management consultants and IT professionals to provide the best possible resource for our client's diverse needs. In addition to our deep professional experience and industry expertise, our consultant's reputation in the industry is something you can rely on when navigating through new business ideas and concepts.

For more information, contact us at info@axenehp.com.

Axene Health Partners
www.axenehp.com